THIS AGREEMENT, dated ______________ between Cato Institute, who shall hereafter be referred to as the Licensor, and the ___________________________ – who shall hereafter be referred to as the Licensee, regarding

Name of book(s)
Authored by ________________

IT IS MUTUALLY AGREED UPON AS FOLLOWS:

1. The Licensor grants the Licensee the right to translate into name of language and print, publish, and sell in the following territory area of sales – name(s) of countries paperback / hardback editions of the aforementioned title(s) for a period of five (5) years from the date of signing this Agreement, with the understanding that this Agreement may be renewed automatically on the same terms for a further five (5) years unless the Licensee is advised otherwise within sixty (60) days of the terminal date by registered mail from the Licensor. Licensee agrees that the book(s) will not be published in English.

2. The Licensee will produce, for a first run, approximately _________ copies of the book(s).

3. The Licensee will furnish the Licensor with six (6) copies of its edition of each book at no expense to the Licensor.

4. The Licensee will continue to sell or otherwise dispose of stock on hand of its editions when the Agreement term has expired.

5. The Licensee shall print the copyright notice on the reverse side of the title page of the books as follows in [language of translation]:

   Name of book:

   First published in the United States by the Cato Institute, Washington, D.C., U.S.A.
   Copyright © Cato Institute _year of copyright_
   Reprinted by permission. All rights reserved.
6. In the event of the Licensee’s failure to keep the editions in print for any continuous six (6) month period during the terms of this Agreement, Licensor shall have the option to terminate this Agreement, such termination to be effective upon expiration of three (3) months after the Licensee shall have received written notice of the licensor’s intention to exercise option, unless the Licensee shall during such three (3) month period reprint its edition of the work.

7. The Licensee shall have the works translated into the ____________ language by a competent translator, with only such minor changes from the English text of said works as necessary to effect a suitable translation, unless authorization for other changes shall be given in writing to the Licensor prior to first publication.

8. The Licensee will bear all advertising and production costs, including any costs associated with transferring the book’s original file formats (often a PDF, in English) into any other type of file format needed to begin the translation and production process.

9 (a). The Licensee hereby gives assurance that the ____________ editions will reflect faithfully both the author’s point of view and the spirit of the text as expressed in the U.S. edition.

9 (b). The Licensee agrees to make no changes in the text or titles without prior written consent of the Licensor.

9 (c). The Licensor reserves the authors’ rights to approve the translated version.

9 (d). The Licensee agrees that it shall not include any advertising whatsoever other than listing of its other publications in any of the editions published by it under the terms of this Agreement without prior consent of the Licensor.

10. The Licensee agrees to publish the books within twenty-four (24) months of the date of this Agreement.

11. The Licensor warrants and represents that it legally controls all rights to the works herein granted and has full right and power to make this Agreement; that the works are not a violation of any copyright, propriety, or personal right; that Licensor has not in any manner granted, assigned, encumbered, or disposed of any of the rights herein granted to the Licensee or any rights adverse or inconsistent therewith; that there are no rights outstanding which would diminish, encumber, or impair the full enjoyment or exercise of the rights granted to the Licensee; and that no part of the works are libelous, obscene, or unlawful of violates any rights of privacy.

12. The Licensee agrees to defend, hold harmless and indemnify the Licensor against any claim, demand, suit, action, proceeding, recovery, compromise, settlement or expense of any nature whatsoever, including costs and attorney’s fees, arising from any claim of infringement of copyright or other propriety right, libel, obscenity, unlawfulness, invasion of privacy, or based upon or rising out of any matter or thing contained in the works or any breach of the warranties or representations herein contained.

13. The Licensee will not transfer to any other person or company any of the rights granted herein unless it has first obtained the written permission of the Licensor.

14. Any and all rights not expressed in this Agreement specifically granted to the Licensee are retained by the Licensor to be the Licensor’s sole and separate property, and the Licensee shall not do or authorize the doing of any act which may affect or jeopardize any of said retained rights to and in said work.

15. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the successors and assigns of the Licensee and the successors and assigns of the Licensor.

16. This Agreement constitutes the entire understanding of the parties in relation to the subject matter hereof. No change or modification of this Agreement shall be valid unless in writing signed by the parties hereto. If the terms and conditions herein stated are not met, the Agreement will be considered null and void.

17. This Agreement shall be interpreted according to the laws of the District of Columbia, United States of America.

Cato Institute
Licensor

Representative of publisher
Licensee

Signature________________________ Signature________________________

Date________________________    Date____